

CHAD BATKA FOR THE NEW YORK TIMES

★ 'ADAM WADE FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE SHOW' (Monday) Adam Wade, above, who has won the Moth Story Slam 18 times, hosts this monthly variety show, which also features a special guest storyteller. At 7 p.m., Under St. Marks, 94 St. Marks Place, East Village, 212-777-6088, adamwade.com; $5. (Elise Czajkowski)

'DEVIL'S DUE' (R, 1:29) This latest monster-in-utero movie brings nothing new to the birthing table as it follows a pair of unlucky newlyweds (Zach Gilford and Allison Miller) who return from a honeymoon in the Dominican Republic with a mysterious

ens to the world around him. A must-see. (Dargis)

★ 'HER' (R, 2:05) At once a brilliant conceptual gag and a deeply sincere romance, Spike Jonze's exquisite new movie is an unlikely yet completely plausible love story set in the die's new film, a murder at a gay cruising spot in the French countryside initiates an exploration — sometimes terrifying, sometimes archly comical — into the sexual ethics and romantic longings of a group of men whose relations with one another are at once intensely intimate and un-

Pop

Prices may not reflect ticketing service charges. For full reviews of recent concerts: nytimes.com/music. A